Professional Skills

Work Experience

Online Producer @Yahoo Canada
Jan 2014 - Sept 2014
Wrote for online covering Canada's banks, investing, and personal finance. I also organized interviews with business leaders in Canada. And produced engaging video's for online.

Video/Multimedia Producer @Ryerson University
Sept 2014 - Feb 2015

At Ryerson's media relations department, my main responsibilities included producing video's for a range of online campaigns. I was also responsible for managing online editorial posts, and designing daily email campaigns.

Online Reporter @Financial Post
Feb 2015 - May 2015

Wrote online articles for the finance vertical, and assisted in producing online videos. I also was part of a team that was responsible for updating the website.

Front-End Developer @ThinkNation
May 2015 - Nov 2015

My position at ThinkNation was hybrid. I was responsible for implementing front-end design, but I also played the role of content manager. As the content manager, I was responsible for white papers, email campaigns, press releases and other such content.

Education

Bachelor's (Digital Media/Journ.) @Ryerson University
Sept 2011 - 2015

My studies at Ryerson's RTA department focused on Journalism, Multimedia and Digital Media. The skills I acquired from my studies include producing videos, writing for the web, copy editing, and analysing complex information.

Web Development @Bitmaker Labs
Oct 2014 - Feb 2015

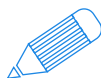

I decided to take on the web development course, and though the course was short, it was intense. I took out of it front-end and back-end development skills, which includes the ability to build blogs, single page applications, and more. I've used these skills to develop email and other online campaigns.
