Professional Skills

Work Experience

Multimedia Producer @Ryerson University

At Ryerson's media relations department, my main responsibilities included producing video's for a range of online campaigns. I was also responsible for managing online editorial posts, and designing daily email campaigns.

Dynamics CRM Developer @Juba Express

Configured and developed Oracle Siebel portal application and successfully integrated various web technologies such as JavaScript, XML and XSLT onto the Siebel front end. Worked on parallel delivery agile model project which maintained rigorous delivery schedules.

Front-End Developer @ThinkNation

My position at ThinkNation was hybrid. I was responsible for implementing front-end designs, but I also played the role of content manager. As the content manager, I was responsible for white papers, email campaigns, press releases and other such content both technically and creatively.

Multimedia Coordinator @Herjavec Group

Responsible for development and maintenance of Shark Tank's, Robert Herjavec web/social media presence as well as IT Security company, Herjavec Group. Designing and developing marketing material in the form of email campaigns, web pages and more.

Education

Bachelor's (Digital Media) @Ryerson University

Sept 2011 - 2015

My studies at Ryerson's RTA department focused on Journalism, Multimedia and Digital Media. The skills I acquired from my studies include producing videos, writing for the web, copy editing, and analysing complex information.

Web Development @Bitmaker Labs

Oct 2014 - Feb 2015

I decided to take on the web development course, and though the course was short, it was intense. I took out of it front-end and back-end development skills, which includes the ability to build blogs, single page applications, and more. I've used these skills to develop email and other online campaigns.
